Regional Environmental Council YouthGROW Intern

Start Date: June 1, 2023

Who We Are: The Regional Environmental Council (REC) is a food justice organization that has been working in Worcester for fifty years. Our mission is to bring people together to create a just food system and to build healthy, sustainable, and equitable communities in Worcester, MA and beyond. Our programs include Community and Mobile Farmers Markets, YouthGROW, our youth employment urban agriculture program, and UGROW, our community and school gardens network. The focus of this internship is our YouthGROW Program, which employs 40 teens annually on our urban farm who participate in our summer intensive program. Youth and adult participants work together to grow over 4,000 pounds of food while building leadership skills and deepening their understanding of the food system.

We are seeking: YouthGROW Interns to work with youth participants (ages 14-18) as part of the YouthGROW summer at the two youth-led urban farms on Oread Street in Main South and Grant Square Park in Bell Hill, Worcester. Activities during the summer program are centered on sustainable agriculture, environmental and social justice, and youth activism.

Compensation: All internships are unpaid but provide invaluable insight into: urban agriculture, food justice, environmental justice, non-profit management, and customer service. Interns will learn what it is like working in a hugely diverse city like Worcester and the importance of honoring food justice by working in low-income, food-insecure neighborhoods. Interns are an integral part to the success of the REC's programs and are part of what makes our programs sustainable. If available through your educational institution, the REC is willing to help interns obtain credit for their work with us, and in some cases your college or university may be able to provide funding.
